Marriages at Luna Park.

The excursion of the Mosaic Shriners to Luna Park last Saturday was a successful and enjoyable affair in every particular. Two marriages were celebrated in the musical shell. The contracting parties were Washingtonians, the first couple being Mr. Louis Walters and Elmer Wilson Holland. The marriage took place in the afternoon. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. Fisher of the Baptist Church of this city. The couple left on the 7:15 p. m. train for a trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto, the expenses of which will be paid by the Luna Park management. Thomas Walker presented the groom with $50 as a gift of the Arab Patrol, and presents donated by merchants included a bed room set and other furniture.

The second wedding took place at 8 o'clock when Miss Fannie Baggett, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baggett, and Mr. Joseph National Holland were married. This ceremony was also performed by Rev. Dr. Fisher. The couple departed for Niagara Falls later.

But three more days remain for visiting Luna Park. Today will be known as Southern day, and speeches will be made, and there will be a great carnival of merriment.

Tomorrow will be greater Washington Day. A tournament will mark this day's observance. Over $200 in cash prizes is offered the successful riders. A coronation ball and an old time country dance will be a feature of the evening.

The park will close for the season on Wednesday night. That day will be known as "German Day," and preparations are in progress to make it enjoyable to all who may attend.

Lady Insulted on a Train.

Shortly after nine o'clock last Saturday night a tall, powerfully built burly white man boarded a train at Luna Park for this city. A number of young ladies who had visited the resort were also among the passengers on the train. The unknown man seated himself alongside one of them and his conduct soon became so repugnant that she arose and secured another seat. The man then took possession of a seat alongside of another young woman, and renewed his gross conduct. The circumstances in connection with his behavior were extraordinary and bestial, and he continued his unwarranted familiarity and obscene advances until the city limits were reached. When the train came to a stop at Columbus street the young woman who had suffered such a gross insult from the man asked if there were not some men on the train who would protect her from the brute who had sat alongside of her. The man in the meantime left the train and proceeded south on Columbus street, while the young woman left the car on the north side. The matter was reported to the police and they have made every exertion to identify the man, but so far their efforts have been futile. The circumstances in connection with the case being revolting, the affair has naturally caused no little indignation. The man is not believed to be a resident of this city. The Alexandrians on the train who saw him say he was unknown to them. On the way from the park it was noticed that the young woman at times was perturbed, but most of the passengers say they supposed that the man was the lady's escort and that the two were simply quarreling with each other.

Horses Drowned.

Two valuable horses belonging to Smoot & Co., lumber dealers, were drowned at 11:30 o'clock this morning in the dock at the ferry slip, foot of King street. The horses were attached to an empty lumber wagon in charge of Mr. Harry Tyler, who had arrived here on the steamer Woodbury. After the steamer had been made fast in the slip a vehicle passed off. This was followed by Smoot & Co.'s wagon, but when the team was in the act of passing from the steamer to the wharf the boat moved several feet from the slip by the parting of the chain which was holding the steamer. Mr. Tyler, realizing his peril, jumped and avoided falling overboard, but the wagon and horses were precipitated into the dock, and the horses were drowned before they could be cut loose from the wagon. The work of pulling the wagon and horses from the dock was accomplished as soon as possible and there was but little interruption in the ferry service. It is supposed that the northeast wind and strong ebb tide caused the boat to move and break the chain.

Opera House Tonight.

The Fredericksburg Journal has the following to say of the Corinne Runkel Stock Company, which will commence a two weeks' engagement at the Opera House tonight: "The Opera House was filled to overflowing last evening to see the Corinne Runkel Stock Company in their attractive play, 'The Inside Track.' The play was well rendered and much enjoyed by all present. Miss Runkel played her part well and was excellently supported by the entire company. Harry E. Pierce and Charles W. Guthrie as the scoundrel, were very good. Mr. Griton and little Dave Runkel were the life of the play. Miss Ray Myers as the Maid of the Mill was excellent. In fact the entire company is far above the average of popular priced plays that come to Fredericksburg. There are no tiresome acts, and the audience is amused the entire time."

Taken to the Penitentiary.

S. J. Smith, one of the keepers of the penitentiary, passed through this city this morning with William Laydrane, white, and Wm. Thomas and William Whitting, colored, all of Fairfax, in charge. Laydrane is to serve one year for assaulting his wife, Whitting one year for assault, and Thomas for twenty-seven years for horsestealing, he having been convicted on nine counts. He had previously been sent to the penitentiary for twelve years for a similar offense.

The beats of the policemen were changed today.

They cordially invite their many friends to be present tonight.

After Alleged Gamblers.

The police of this city yesterday printed the names of thirteen Alexandrians who, it is alleged, boarded the little steamer Bartholdi, presumably to gamble on the ark, which is anchored in the Potomac river off Jones Point, and it is said that Harbor Master Sutton, of Washington, and a detective from that city were also engaged in securing the names of Washingtonians who visited the ark.

New Engine.

The new steam fire engine now in the Columbia engine house, was inspected by many persons yesterday. The apparatus will be given a three hours' test at the foot of Wolfe street tomorrow afternoon. Chief B. L. and other officials of the Washington fire department will be present, together with Mr. Wassell, inspecting engineer of the Seneca Falls works where the engine was built.

Taken Back to Culpeper.

George Griffin, colored, who was brought to this city from Culpeper county recently to insure his safety until the date of his trial for an alleged attempt to attack a fifteen-year-old white girl, and who has been confined in the city jail, was removed to Culpeper by officers from that county this morning. His case was set for trial today.
